

The route

The Middle Rhine Klettersteig is (for a low mountain range) a surprisingly 'real' via ferrata, though frequently interspersed with hiking trails, some of which are extensive. Yet it has a wide variety of challenging trails, certainly for beginners.

It is located in Boppard, on the circuit with the most delightful scenery along the Rhine, and runs through the Rhine's unique escarpments. It is exceptionally diverse with sensational views of the Rhine Valley and the Hunsrück. All together there are 11 climbing stretches to be negotiated on steep cliff faces along the sports course. By taking the hiking option, the very difficult stretches can be circumvented via pathways. With several restaurants at the start, and two scenic restaurants along the way, the Klettersteig is a Loop to be savoured.

Certified by the German Hiking Institute, the Mittelrhein-Klettersteig Dream Loop achieved 92 adventure points.

Starting point:

St.-Remigius-Platz on the L 207 / B 9 in Boppard
